

...merely musing...

Well, 50 Per Cent. Anyways...
...It's not that we're hanging our head in shame, or anything like that. It's a shame to shatter an illusion, to bring the statue hurtling from its pedestal, to destroy man's faith in himself. This department is not wearing ashes and sackcloth, but that's only because none could be found around the campus. Our confidence in ourselves has been dealt a smashing blow. It may recuperate, but we're not sure. Some are hoping for a speedy demise. Some people, such as Pete Fuller, last year's Sports Editor, defy anybody to do better than 25 per cent. anyway. Well, by gar, we'll beat that record. Though the average for this last week-end was only 50 per cent, it was only an accident. For the season, it's still 14 out of 17.

This Week's Winners...

McGill to beat Queen's Varsity to beat Western Nationals to beat Sarnia. Balmby Beach to beat Peterborough Cubs to beat Hamilton Ottawa to beat Argos
These choices are the kind on which the limb usually snaps from crawling out too far. They are a little risky to put it mildly. But we may be lucky and hit that 25 per cent. and thus return to the ordinary class of mortals. After all, you can't be super-human all the time.

Congratulations, Mr. and Mrs. Ruschlin...

...On the birth of a little baby boy yesterday. Both mother and son are doing well, thank you. Some several weeks ago Pop Ruschlin, our fightin' captain of the football team, warned some weary footballers in the locker room of the Field House that the Redmen would have a mascot before the season was out. And, sure 'nuf, his guess came true...

We wish the best of everything to Ruschlin junior and hope that our not-yet-faded eyes will be able to look in bleary-fasion from the grandstand of Molson Stadium some time in 1938 and see shades of the fightin' captain of 1938 back on the field, and memory will waltz back over many years when Lou Ruschlin led the Redmen to that great championship in 1938 when the team went through the season undefeated... And we'll remember how we were heckled about our prophecies in those bygone days... Ah, well...

Our McGill Band...

...It's getting to be a weekly habit, this praising of the band. It's not that we mind praising the band, especially when we can do so sincerely, but rumours of all sorts constantly keep floating around. Before the Toronto trip, the decision about making the journey was shifted at least three times. Finally they went. Now, when the team will really need support in Kingston next week-end with a very hostile crowd booing our Redmen around, and likely a hard-hitting Tricolour on the field, our supporters and team would likely appreciate the reassuring tunes of James McGill, especially in its latest heart-warming fasion.

The band-leader has worked hard and long this year to get a band together. He did that. They play pretty well, as well as can be expected. Next year they show promise of being very good. It will be unfortunate if their enthusiasm is killed. College spirit, recently recovered these parts, will pass away with the death of the band. The burial of both would be a sad ritual, especially after such a short life.

We admit we may be a little (Continued on Page Four)

Workshop Inaugurates New Seasons Activities

Activities of the Workshop, training school of the McGill Players' Club, began yesterday afternoon when new members of the club interested in the varied fields of dramatic production met in the Union Grill room.

The purpose of the Workshop, it was explained by Maurice Hecht, chairman of the organization, is to instruct new members in acting, directing, writing, publicity, construction, make-up, and executive work. Classes in each of these departments are held under the leadership of competent instructors, and members who acquire the necessary experience are graduated into the senior organization. Members were assured by the chairman that there would be plenty of room for talent in the several one-act plays which the Workshop plans to produce this season.

Two innovations are being introduced this year. The first of these is the formation of a discussion group to study the meaning of the theatre, and the tradition behind it, rather than its actual mechanics. Anyone interested in this group was asked to meet in the Union on Thursday at five o'clock.

The second innovation is the decision of the Players' Club to offer the facilities of the Workshop to all McGill societies who may be able to make use of them in their dramatic ventures. Any group interested in this suggestion can obtain information by addressing inquiries to the chairman of the workshop, care of the Players' Club in the McGill Union.

Those interested in participating in the acting class will meet next Tuesday at 5 o'clock in the Union. Would-be actors should come prepared to read a scene from any play of their own choice. Directors and writers are also asked to be present at this meeting. Following this meeting the casting will begin for the first series of one-act plays.

WYNNE-EDWARDS DISCUSSES TRIP

The Biological Society will commence its activities for this session when Mr. V. C. Wynne-Edwards of the Department of Zoology speaks to the members and friends of the Society Thursday evening at 8 o'clock in the Biological Building. Mr. Wynne-Edwards will speak of the trip he made to the Arctic in the summer of 1937. This voyage was made by a group of American students to study the flora and fauna of the Arctic regions. The speaker accompanied the party both as naturalist and as Canadian representative. Travelling across the far Canadian North, the passengers of the "Gertrude Thebaud," Atlantic schooner under "Commander" Donald B. MacMillan, were successful in obtaining new information of those areas of both biological and geographical importance.

At the Thursday night meeting, the president, Eugene Munro, will present the program of the Society for this term. This will include lectures of interest to students of biology as well as other departments, and also a continuation of the series of students' discussion groups which were held from time to time last year.

A comely coloured girl had just been baptized in the river. As soon as she came to the surface she cried, "Bless de Lawd, I'se saved; Last night I was in the ahms of Satan, but tonight Ah'm in the ahms of de Lawd!"

NEW WOMEN'S DEBATING UNION IS ORGANIZED

Will Be Entirely Independent Organization

ALL WOMEN ELIGIBLE
Organization Encouraged by Co-ed Victory in Bovey Shield Contest

The first attempt has been made to form a women's debating union. This new women's debating union will be formed under the sponsorship of a woman representative of the McGill Debating Union Society.

Although the new society will enjoy the patronage of the debating Union Society it will be an entirely independent organization, and will hold a campus position similar to that of the Engineer's Debating Union.

The Women's Debating Union will have the support of the Student's Society as did the Delta Sigma Society.

Last week Sylvia Grove gave encouragement to the sponsors of the new Debating Union by winning the Bovey Shield. This is the first time the Shield has ever been won by a woman student.

To Elect Officers.

Election of officers for this new society will take place at the open meeting of the Women's Union, to be held on October 31. Plans will be made for the setting up of a committee, representative of each year.

All women undergraduates are eligible to attend this meeting of the Women's Union and are urged to do so.

Tentative plans have been made to start activities with a Public Speaking contest. The following Freshies who signed the Freshie questionnaire as being interested in debating are asked to attend the initial meeting. All others interested are also requested to attend. M. Auerbach, D. Alcock, B. Brennan, B. Crowdy, P. Carter, D. Detmers, J. Edward, M. Eddy, S. Elkin, M. Francis, E. O'Hara, A. Parker, J. Ravise, S. Ripstein, E. Strong, M. Stee.

S.P.C. HOLDS FIRST MEETING ON FRIDAY

Officers Will Be Elected and New Programme Determined

Inaugurating the new season, the Social Problems Club will hold its first meeting in the Union Ballroom on Friday afternoon at 5. A member of the staff will be the guest speaker, but nothing definite has been announced yet. The name of the speaker and the subject should appear in Thursday morning's Daily.

There are two major points to be settled at Friday's meeting. First, officers must be elected for the new term, and second, plans must be worked out at this meeting for the programme for the coming year.

Last year, the Social Problems Club's activity consisted in the main of a political symposium featuring prominent speakers representing the various Canadian political parties. Speakers from the Liberal, Conservative, Co-operative Commonwealth Federation and Fascist parties were heard. In addition, the S.P.C. waged an active fight against the notorious Padlock Law, and conducted an intensive campaign to repeal the ban placed upon the film, "The Life of Emile Zola."

A commission, organized by the S.P.C., to investigate the possibilities of establishing a student-owned co-operative bookstore on the campus has now been taken over by the Students' Council.

Queen's-Bound Streamlined Train To Carry Fervid Football Fans

Whoever Wishes Wild Week-end Will Want to Support Saturday's Special to Football Game in Limestone City

By P. W.

A McGill-Queen's showdown in the gentlemanly art of rugby-football is in the offing. It is a game which will, if won by the Redmen, eliminate the erstwhile Tricolour champions from the football arena. To facilitate transportation to this game, the McGill Athletic Office is sponsoring a train excursion provided a sufficient number of students, 102 to be exact, signify their willingness to take advantage of the greatly reduced rate, which has been set at $4.00 for the round trip. This they may do by getting in touch with the Athletic Office as soon as possible. The office would like to know well ahead of time if they can count on the required number.

The train will leave Bonaventure Station on Saturday morning at 9:15, arriving in Kingston about 1 o'clock, in plenty of time for the game. Advance sale of reserved seats at Richardson Stadium is being held in the Athletic Office. The train will be equipped with dining car for lunch, and a recreation car, as in the previous excursion a fortnight ago.

CO-ED ORATOR IN PARLIAMENT

Sylvia Grove, Saul Zatz to Head Parties

Debating Union to Hold Its First Mock Parliament November 5

The Debating Union Society will hold its first Mock Parliament of the season on Thursday, November 5th, in the Union Ballroom. Sylvia Grove, co-ed winner of the Bovey Shield for impromptu public speaking, and Saul Zatz, last year's winner of the Reford Challenge Trophy, will lead the two parties. No decision has been made as yet with regard to choice of side, nor have the supporting speakers been chosen. Final arrangements will be made within the next few days. The resolution under discussion is to be "Resolved that this House regrets the passing of Victorianism."

As is customary at Debating Union Parliaments, all students are invited to attend, and to take an active part in the general discussion.

Elections for President of the Debating Union are to be held on Friday, November 4th. The election was necessitated by the resignation of Morton Godine, a graduate student, and holder of a fellowship in Political Science. Only under-

Mock Parliament to Decide on Future of Canadian Wheat Crop

Monty Berger Leads Government Forces in Support of Resolution—Opposition Cabinet Headed by Neville Wykes Not Yet Completed

"Resolved that there will be a minimum price for the 1939 wheat crop," will be the bill presented by Mr. Montague Berger, Leader of His Majesty's Government in the Political Economy Mock Parliament to be held at 8.30 tomorrow night in the Union Ball Room.

Both Monty Berger and Neville Wykes, Leader of the Opposition, stressed the fact that this question is of vital importance to Canada's future welfare. As many people are unacquainted with the facts of the wheat problem, the purpose of the debate is to discuss and bring to light the whole question of bushels. Monty Berger has "comple'd his cabinet and four of his ministers will discuss different angles of the bill. The rest of the cabinet members will be Ministers 'without Portfolio. The Prime Minister claims that the Government will sweep the Opposition before them and be victorious in establishing a minimum price for the 1939 wheat crop.

The Opposition held a caucus yesterday afternoon and have outlined a program of attack which they hope will defeat the bill. The

Those who like speed, and don't like football dances, may leave Kingston for home on the fast train at 7:07 p.m. Saturday.

Bright spirits who prefer an evening in the Limestone city, will be entertained at Grant Hall, which is usually the scene of such revels, and may be found by asking anybody, or wandering around the Arts Building. The LaSalle Hotel downtown also plays up the football sessions in fine style. For these more convivial characters, any of the regular trains until Sunday night are available.

For those who have not yet experienced the aftermath of a football game in Kingston, it may be here noted, that the Queen's lads, win or lose, crave excitement. Their whole appetite for excitement, in fact, must be satisfied during the short football season, in the ordinarily sleepy little town, and it is! And if you haven't seen Queen's Frosh in a pyjama parade you ought to.

VACANCIES IN REVUE STAFF TO BE FILLED

That vacancies on the staff of the Red and White Revue of 1939 are still open was emphasized by Bill Hington, this year's producer, at a meeting of the executive yesterday. The Revue office, situated in the basement of the Union, will be open this afternoon from 3 till 5 o'clock to receive applications to all departments, including costumes, scenery, stage properties, make-up, programme advertising, publicity, tickets, etc.

Playlets, skits and music will also be received. Students who have suggestions to offer will bring them into the office as soon as possible.

LIBRARY TOUR TODAY

Details Involved in Its Use to Be Explained

There will be a library tour today for all students who were unable to come earlier in the month. The conductor of the tour will explain the details involved in registering at the library and in using the catalogue. Students will be shown how to borrow books and how to use the many reference books and periodicals.

graduates may hold the position. Nominations to fill the office must be handed to Mr. Fletcher before Thursday at 5 p.m. Each nomination must be accompanied by the names of ten students who have paid the Universal Fee. The actual elections will be held in the Music Room.

Opposition, Neville Wykes says, will direct their attack upon the broad principles of Free Trade and efficient production. The Cabinet of this party is not yet completed and all students of Economics and Political Science are welcome.

This Mock Parliament will follow a regular parliamentary procedure. Dr. C. Hemmeon, Head of the Department of Economics and Political Science will preside as Speaker of the House. Members of the teaching staff will participate in both sides of debate. There will be a brief period open for a general debate. At the end of the evening, the resolution will be voted on.

The Political Economy Club, one of the oldest clubs in McGill University was founded by Professor Stephen Leacock. This is the first of the regular series of meetings held on the last Thursday of every month. All students interested in this discussion are invited to attend.

Both parties will hold final party caucuses today at 3 o'clock, in Room 15 of the Arts Building.

STARS ENRICH POETS' WORKS SAYS SPEAKER

Dr. A. V. Douglas Speaks to St. James Literary Society

ILLUSTRATES TALK

Traces Historical Development of Study of the Skies

"The Poetry of Heaven," was the subject of an address by Dr. A. Vibert Douglas, Professor of Astrophysics, delivered to the St. James' Literary Club last night.

As applied to English literature, particularly in the phase of poetry, Dr. Douglas declared that references to the celestial bodies have served to enrich the works of many of our greatest writers. The sun, moon, planets, comets, meteors and stars have appeared to embellish a great many passages, as demonstrated by a study made by several students interested in astrophysics.

This "challenge of the mystery of the stars" has affected men for many thousands of years. "The Babylonians and Greeks, coupling a keen observation with well-developed powers of speculation produced the earliest astronomy," the speaker said. "There followed a change in the method of scientific approach with Copernicus, Galileo, Kepler and Newton, aided and speeded up by scientific inventions, and leading eventually to a general outline of the present state of knowledge regarding the vast problems of the universe."

"Their greater contribution, perhaps, was in posing problems for astrophysicists of a later generation, the nature and composition of stars, the structure of the universe, and the interesting features of such stellar systems as those of Sirius and Epsilon Aurigae."

In conclusion, the speaker cited as an example of a perennial and age-long challenge to astrophysics the mystery of motion, which has occupied scientists for 50 centuries, and which has been "ever assuming new forms as knowledge has advanced."

AUSTRALIANS WILL DEBATE WITH MAC

Under Auspices of National Federation of University Students

Macdonald College, October 26.—A debating team of two debaters drawn from Sydney University, and Melbourne University, Australia, who are touring Canada this fall under the auspices of the National Federation of Canadian University Students, will meet a local team on November 15th.

The Debaters are H. R. W. Robson, a recent graduate in Law of Sydney University, New South Wales and F. F. Thonemann of Melbourne University, Victoria, at present a student of law. Both have been nominated by the National Union of Australian Students.

The subject that has been selected for debate with the travelling debaters, when they appear here on November 15th is "Resolved that Nationalism is the enemy of Civilization." The Macdonald team will uphold the affirmative side of the resolution.

GERMAN LUNCHEON

Samovar Restaurant Meeting Place of German Table.

Students interested in brushing up their German will have an opportunity to do so on Thursday when the German Club meets for luncheon at the Samovar Restaurant, 1424 Peel Street, at one o'clock. A private dining-room has been secured for the occasion so as to avoid overcrowding, and to afford a quiet place for the meeting. Meal prices will be the same as previously.

The Executive of the German Club has invited all students interested in the German language, and assures them that here they will find ample opportunity of practising the language.

Professor Carruthers To Speak on Classics

Professor C. H. Carruthers of the Department of Classics will address the first meeting of the Classical Club on Friday, October 28, at 4 p.m. in Strathcona Hall. The subject of his address is "Vulgar Latin."

"Though textbook Latin, or classical Latin, is a highly artificial, fossilized language," Dr. Carruthers stated today when interviewed, "it managed to survive about 800 years. The Romans of the Empire, however, could not and did not use it. Spoken or vulgar Latin followed the flag, changing with successive Roman conquests, and eventually became the common language of the Western World."

Dr. Carruthers added that he intended to trace vulgar Latin through three stages of change—the period when it spread with the conquering Roman armies, the period of bi-lingualism in the different provinces (which, he remarked, proved very awkward and finally disappeared), and the period when vulgar Latin was differentiated into the Romance or neo-Latin languages, "which are nothing but a degenerate form of Latin."

A number of Latin teachers from several high schools of the city have accepted the Classical Club's invitation to attend the forthcoming meeting. Before the address is given, the executive announced, refreshments will be served. All students interested in the address, whether in the Classical Department or not, are invited to attend this first meeting.

CLUB TO HEAR CZECH CONSUL

International Relations Club to Hold Meeting

Dr. Pavlasek Will Discuss Moral Forces Behind Czechoslovakia

"The Moral Forces Behind Czechoslovakia" is the subject chosen by Dr. Frantisek Pavlasek, Czechoslovak Consul-General, for his address before the International Relations Club at the first meeting to be held Thursday evening, October 27. Dr. Pavlasek will throw a light on the recent happenings in Central Europe and will discuss the future of his country.

The McGill International Relations Club, one of 827 similar organizations scattered throughout the continent, is sponsored by the Carnegie Endowment for International Peace. It was formed early in the year as a result of the favourable response to the idea by the students, and its purpose, it is declared, is to study, impartially and unbiased, all aspects of world affairs. The Endowment will aid in supplying the club with a valuable collection of books and news bulletins which will be available to students at the Carnegie Reading Room in the Arts Building.

Later in the evening a short period will be open for discussion, to be followed by the election of officers for the coming year. Participation in the club at the regional conference to be held December 1 at Swarthmore College will be brought up and plans will be laid for co-operation with the recently initiated Chapter at the University of Montreal.

It's news when a man bites a dog, but it's supernews when a football coach has to pay to see his own team in action. But that's exactly what happened at the University of Scranton when Coaches Davies and Jones were stopped at the gate for no gain until they paid through the window.

SEASON'S FIRST SOPH HOP SET FOR SATURDAY

Eight-Piece Orchestra Will Provide Music

DRESS ULTRA-INFORMAL

All Years to Participate in Saturday's Dance in Union

Stressing that the essential feature of this dance will be its ultra-informality, the executive of the sophomore class announced last night that the first of this year's Soph Hops will be held this Saturday, September 29, in the Union Ballroom. The orchestra engaged for the evening consists of eight swing "musicians" under the direction of Harrison Jones, who will guide the campus jitterbugs "down the groove" from eight o'clock until midnight. Tickets for the event are on sale at the tuck shop and at Bill Gentleman's office.

All Years Participate.

Although the hop is being organized by the sophomores it is an event in which students of all faculties and all years are to participate. The informal character of the affair will provide an opportunity to go collegiate in both manner and dress. Showing that it has faith in the ability of students to exercise self-restraint, the organizing executive issued the unqualified statement that "any sort of garb may be worn at this year's hop." The fashion notes compiled at last year's hops show that sweaters and skirts were the most favored of feminine attire, and unlike other social functions, the men outdressed the women with their varied array of attire, ranging from shirtsleeves to jackets and pullovers.

NEUROLOGISTS HERE DISCUSS PARALYSIS

Drs. Mackay, Paterson-Smyth and Viner, Speak Today

Dr. F. H. Mackay will speak at a meeting of the Montreal Neurological Society today at 5 o'clock in the Montreal General Hospital.

Dr. Mackay will discuss the case of acute lower motor neurone paralysis—neuritis. Following this, Dr. G. Paterson-Smyth will discuss the case of lower-cord lesion for diagnosis.

If time permits, Dr. N. Viner will speak on the case of hysterical unilateral paralysis involving sensation, auditory and visual function.

LECTURES ON MUSIC

Series of Talks Planned in McGill Conservatorium

Douglas Clarke, honorary director of the Montreal Orchestra begins a series of musical talks in the McGill Conservatorium Friday at 5 p.m.

These talks will have special reference to the Sunday concerts of the Montreal Orchestra and will be illustrated by references from the recently-acquired Carnegie Collection. The talks are open to students of all faculties.

Around the Campus

Those with an interest in recent international events will hear the Czech Consul-General speak tomorrow night in the Union Grillroom... At the same time Political Economy Club meets on a somewhat higher level—in the Union Ballroom—heated debate at hilt on wheat... A somewhat cooler atmosphere will be found tomorrow in Room 250 of the Biological Building when Prof. Wynne-Edwards will speak on "A Trip to the Arctic"... Social Problems Club comes out of its hibernation Friday—member of the staff will address meeting in the Music Room of the Union—the Union sure has a lot of rooms... There's also plenty of room for 100 escorts for the Red team on the Kingston train this Saturday... All those staying in town are invited to the Sophomore Hop Saturday eve in the Union Ballroom.

RED FRESHMEN SWAMP AGGIES FOR THIRD WIN

Score 11-3 Victory in Windy Game

RUSSEL PLAYS WELL

Lloyd-Smith Out for Season With Dislocated Shoulder

A strong wind played an important part in yesterday's junior football game at Macdonald College. The McGill Freshmen chalked up their third victory of the season with an 11-3 score against the Aggies. So far the Red team have won three games and tied one out of their four starts and now face their most important game against Loyola this Saturday on the latter's home grounds.

The lone touchdown of the game was made by Bruce Russel in the opening five minutes of play in the first quarter after a series of end runs and this same star performer kicked the convert. Two more rouges were made in the first quarter for McGill, both lofted by the experienced toe of Russel. This made the score 8-0 at the end of the first quarter.

The three remaining McGill points were kicked by Morrison in the last quarter while the trio of Aggie tallies were booted by Neish with a stiff breeze at his back, two in the second and one in the third quarter.

Team Plays Well

Coach Wally Markham's freshman squad stood up well against the heavier and rougher Mac twelve and seemed to work out their plays more efficiently. Bruce Russel and Captain Errol Smith played outstanding football for the Red squad, while Robinson, Neish and Macdonald were the important cogs in the Ste. Annes machine. Morrison also showed to good advantage for McGill in his first league game.

Cadets Win Intermediate Track Title from Weakened Red Squad

Track Quite Slow After Heavy Rainfall — Valin and Nixon Star for Ottawa — Bos and Peter Win for Reds

Fielding a brilliant track and field squad the R.M.C. Cadets took command of the Intermediate Intercollegiate Track Meet yesterday afternoon at Molson Stadium when they piled up the enviable score of 74 points 'as compared with 31 for the Redmen and 29 for the University of Ottawa.

Much credit must be given to the participants of all three teams considering the conditions under which they had to run, what with the cold weather and the slow track due to heavy rainfall. In spite of the undesirable weather a few McGill fans did turn out to cheer for the battling Red Team which was sadly depleted this year because of the loss of many of last year's stars.

Ottawa Show Well

Despite the fact that only five men were entered from the University of Ottawa they nevertheless managed to pick up 29 points, which was just two under the McGill aggregate. One record fell yesterday when Dundas of R.M.C., soared to new heights in the high jump to eclipse the old mark of 5 ft. 8 3/4 in. Dundas cleared the bar at 5 ft. 9 1/2 in.

The most spectacular man of the meet was Boswell of R.M.C., who placed second in the mile and half mile, and then went on to win the three-mile event, scoring 11 points in all for his team, after running a mile and a half in his first two events Boswell mustered up enough energy to sprint the last hundred yards of the three-mile race, but fell exhausted after he crossed the finish line.

Ottawa High Scores

Nixon, an Ottawa lad, was the highest scorer of the day, winning the low and high hurdles events and placing second in the broad jump to score 13 points or almost half his team's total, while Bos and Peter starred for the Redmen, garnering McGill's only two wins of the day. Bos took the discus throw with a 102-foot throw, and also placed third in the shot put. Peter, who won the mile for the Red aggregate, ran one of the finest races of the day, breaking into a sprint when about 200 yards from the tape to overtake Boswell the smart runner from R.M.C.

Despite the fact that the R.M.C.

ites took the crown from McGill, the meet was characterized throughout by fine sportsmanship on all sides and a great deal of support was aired vocally by members of all three squads.

Reds Weakened Team

This meet was a great disappointment to the McGill rooters because last year the Intermediates successfully defended their title by compiling a total of 92 points against 42 for R.M.C. The results of the meet are as follows:

REDS SHOW UP WELL

Play Against Intermediates in Practice This Evening

McGill's Senior Red Raiders were out to a light practice last evening up at Molson Stadium. All the boys were in good shape with the exception of Bob Keeler and Eddie Tabah both of whom will be unable to play in next Saturday's game against Teddie Reeve's charges up at Kingston. Dr. Tees expects to have Keeler in tip-top shape for the Varsity fixture the following week-end, but Tabah may still be on the sidelines for that one also. His swollen arm is very slow in responding to treatment, and so Dr. Tees does not want to take any chances with it.

Passing Drill

During the evening the Reds had passing drill, signal scrimmage, and during the whole of the two hour practice they were going at top speed. From the way things are shaping up it seems as though the Kingston boys will be in for an extremely hard week-end. Another of last Saturday's casualties, Alex Hamilton, who came in contact, head-on, with one of the Queen's Tacklers, reported none the worse for his experience, and he tore through the practice like a cat on hot bricks.

Reds Look Good

From the way things are shaping, it seems as though the Reds have more than an even chance to beat Queens. If this should happen it will still leave them in undisputed possession of the highest rung in the Intercollegiate Race.

If Varsity Whips Western, which would seem more than likely since the former team will be having the advantage from the fact that they will be playing a home fixture, the win would place the Stevens boys in runner-up position to the local collegians and this would be somewhat of an ideal situation.

Full-Dress Practice

Scheduled for this evening is a full dress rehearsal against the intermediates of the Q.R.F.U. and if this follows the usual turn of events, the Quirs will present lots of opposition to the Kerr Klan. By these tactics Coach Kerr expects to accustom the Reds to the type of bone-crushing treatment which they always receive from the Kingston men.

RED TANKSTERS MEET 'Y' TODAY

Game Held at Y.M.H.A. Pool at 8.30 P.M.

Junior and Senior Tilts — Red Teams Need Win

The McGill Water Poloists will be facing the toughest opposition of the season when both Junior and Senior teams face the powerful Y.M.H.A. aggregations. The Senior Y.M.H.A. squad which are six times Dominion Champions will put up battle to the finish and considering their victory over the powerful M.A.A.A. Natators last week, this will unquestionably be a thrilling game to watch.

The tilts are scheduled to commence at 8.30 p.m. at Y.M.H.A. Pool and the McGillites will be out to avenge a defeat they suffered at the hands of the M.A.A.A. last week, at the expense of the Y.M.H.A. aggregate.

Juniors Played Twice

To date the Juniors have played in two games, the first against the Columbus tanksters, when they landed on the right end of an 11-3 score, they were not quite so successful in their second game, how-

CAPT. RUSCHIN CALLED "POPPA"

A brand new mascot, and the best yet, by all accounts, appeared on the Red Raider's Senior Football horizon on Monday night at 10:30 p.m. The place of arrival was The Royal Victoria Hospital and Capt. Louis J. Ruschin was on hand to greet the little chap, whose name by the way is Louis J. Ruschin, jr.

Lou Ruschin

From the way Capt. Lou sounded, in an exclusive interview with the Daily, he already foresees a bright future for his offspring in the coming generation of football greats. Both Mrs. Ruschin and Lou Jr. are doing very well and as the proud father himself, put it "I have fully recovered."

One point Lou would like to find out is, who are the fellows who put rattles, dolls and baby clothes in his locker at last evening's practice. It was very disconcerting to say the least. So speak up you chaps. Lou wants to thank you (?)

A thing we have been worrying about is this. If Lou does the things to Louis Jr. that he does to those opposing players who stick their noses too far into the Red's football business, or to those who stand in the way of McGill ball carriers, the chances for survival of his son in this world would be almost nil. No doubt some of the Queen's players could vouch for the authenticity of this statement. However, we do not think that Lou Jr. has much to fear on this score.

Taking into consideration that Capt. Ruschin must have been pretty worried during last Saturday's game, his great showing against the Reeve men is all the more to be marvelled at. Vice versa, let Queen's beware next Saturday, 'cause Lou, sr., will be out to do or die for Mrs. Ruschin and Lou, jr.

Congratulations, Mr. and Mrs. Louis J. Ruschin and may the next generation of Daily Scribes write about the exploits of Lou, jr., as the present ones are of his poppa.

NAUTICAL CLUB COMPETES FOR CUP AT BOSTON

Regatta Takes Place This Week-End

REDS HAVE IMPROVED

Massachusetts Institute of Technology Sponsors Meet

The McGill Sailing Club resumes its Inter-Collegiate racing activities this week-end when a representative team makes the trip to Boston in order to participate in the Sixth Semi-annual Boston Dinghy Club Challenge Cup Regatta, which, as usual is being sponsored by the Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

Since this regatta takes place this coming week-end, there will be no time to hold a meeting of the Club and there will be no possibility of running off a formal selection process. As a result anyone who is interested in making the trip is requested to contact John Schwab at WA 4722 this evening if possible or any other evening this week. Mr. Schwab, who is an active member of the club, intends to make the trip in his car and he would gladly accommodate four students. Since the crew is limited to four, this would enable one person to make the trip either as a spare or merely as an observer.

Reds Constantly Improve.

When this meet is held on Sunday, October 30th, it will be the third time that McGill has participated. One year ago the Club placed seventh in a field of approximately twenty-four. Last spring McGill moved up to third place and this fall local sailors have hopes of advancing still higher. To thirty college sailing clubs (mostly American) have been invited. In the past McGill has provided the sole Canadian competition but it is expected that Toronto, and possibly Queen's and R.M.C. as well, will put in an appearance, thus justifying the grandiose title "International Intercollegiate Regatta" which has been applied to this twice-yearly meet.

As usual, competitors will sail on the Charles River Basin, immediately in front of the M.I.T. campus in Cambridge, Mass., three miles up the river from Boston itself. The M.I.T. Nautical Association has again offered the use of its fleet of 45 matched dinghies. These boats, 11 feet long, were built by the students themselves to plans made by one of the institute's architects and are as similar as is possible. As a result, the regatta, which is usually run off in a series of heats, is closely contested.

Next Meeting.

The next meeting of the McGill Sailing Club will be held early in November. It is expected that Frank Nobbs will show the moving pictures that he has taken of various events in which the club has participated.

The opening meeting of the Bridge Club was held in the Union last night. SAVE MONEY AT college? Nonsense! And yet some students do manage it, and the habit of saving even small amounts is one well worth acquiring. There is nothing like cash in the bank to give you confidence, and confidence can be one of your greatest assets when you enter the world of business.

Students' accounts are always welcome at any branch of this bank.

These Minor Sports

It's hard to play up such things as water polo, English Rugby and so on. McGill's water polo team have started their lengthy city schedules. Most of the students have never seen a game. They owe it to themselves to see the sport that is rated tougher than football, and one that certainly is gruelling. Both Junior and Senior teams play tonight at Y.M.H.A. There are other games next week, which will be publicized in the Sports pages of the Daily. Take a jaunt down to one some time. You'll enjoy it. No expense and lots of fun.

Then there is an undefeated Rugby Squad that bids fair to capture the City title—a most unheard-of thing for a McGill team. They play Varsity here on Saturday for the intercollegiate championship. Varsity won it for the last five years in a row. We may turn the tables this time. Chances are bright. There's another tough game to watch, if you're one of the few who are unable to make the excursion up to Kingston.

And there are Intermediate and Frosh Football teams, unbeaten in their league games to date. The Inters set a scoring record Monday night when they beat St. Dominics, 63-0. Our soccer team has no such record but performs well and still is in striking distance for college honours.

Interfaculty Farces

It's many a year since this department recalls Commerce, of all people, defaulting games. Arts have done it. Medicine possibly, but Commerce never. Yet this sturdy West Wing of the Arts Building, this emblem of precision and promptness yesterday defaulted a softball game to Theology and Touch Rugby to Medicine. Too bad. We wonder what should cause such an unprecedented thing. We know that Commerce certainly doesn't lack spirit, which is more than we can say for some other faculties.

Arts play in both leagues today. We wonder if their championship drive will come through. That would be the final upset—to see Arts field a sound and complete team.

Within this eighteen-storey steel-ribbed sphere they will find two "magic carpets"—great rings seemingly unsupported in space—slowly revolving in opposite directions one above the other. From the "carpets" they will look down upon a model "City of Tomorrow" and its environs, viewing it from noon to night in all its beauty of color, its lights and its changing shadows.

the rest of the season due to the loss of Walter Lloyd-Smith, efficient McGill lineman, who suffered a dislocated shoulder. His absence will be a great loss to the team in future games as he was a hard-working, 60-minute player. Frank Cutting-ton, who has been out with an injury in the last two league games as well as the exhibition tussle with Ottawa University, is now fully recovered and will be out for practice tomorrow, taking Lloyd-Smith's place at middle.

McGill tried nine passes in the game and completed four, which is a fair enough average in any game. A few minutes after the commencement of play a Macdonald man was penalized for the remainder of the play for charging the kicker and was soon followed off by Cooper of McGill, also off for the rest of the game.

Whichever team was playing with the wind kicked most of the time when in possession of the pigskin, making sometimes 60 yards as against 30 for the team playing against the wind. The poor condition of the play tended to slow up the game and forced the players to fight all the harder.

ever, when they dropped the tilt to M.A.A.A. by the score 14-1 on Monday evening.

The Juniors were beaten by their lack of experience and the superb passing attack of the strong M.A.A.A. aggregation. With some more practices under its belt the team will no doubt come through with a more effective scoring attack. Cameron the McGill centre man scored their only goal of the evening and played a hard game, while Mahon for M.A.A.A. played a really superb brand of polo.

Seniors Lose to M.A.A.A.

The M.A.A.A. poloists repeated their harsh treatment on the senior Redmen when the latter were far outclassed and were downed by the score of 14-2. Dartmouth College is a man's school, and of course their plays must feature all-male casts—and thereby hangs a tale.

Studiously considering the advantages to be derived from buying a Players' season ticket book, two members of the still very "green" freshman class were seen observing the billboard in front of Robinson Hall the other day. Before parting with their five almighties they wanted to be sure of getting their money's worth.

After contemplating for a while, the smarter one of the two pointed an accusing finger at the female lead in last year's show. "Huh," said he, "rotten makeup. He doesn't even look like a woman!"

ONLY TWO OF 415 STUDENTS
FALL INTO REPORTERS' TRAP

Montana State U.—Montana students may have their feet on the ground, but their heads are in the clouds, according to a recent Kaimin survey.

Two out of 415 students who surged past the Student Union between 4.40 and 5.40 o'clock had their eyes on the sidewalk while Kaimin reporters tested a theory that the average student will pick up a funny paper.

For an hour scribes watched while student after student, group after group strode past the bait. A freshman finally bit. He picked up a paper near the intersection of six walks south of the Union and left the campus alternately reading and glancing nervously over his shoulder at the reporter in his wake.

Loren Roberts fell to the bait of the other paper and almost escaped into the Student Union. But the reporter caught him, and his companion obligingly came through with Roberts' name when Roberts himself fell into a reticent mood.

Roberts and Schell proved to be the campus' most obliging guinea pigs. On by went all others.

Try Pennies

Kaimin reporters decided to add the lure of money. Borrowing two pennies they displayed them prominently near the two comic sections. Students continued to pass unheeding.

Desperate, the reporters moved to the security of the Aber grove, laid out the trap in the centre of the six-walk intersection. To the pennies they added a folder of matches, a pencil and three concentric rings around the pennies.

On surged the student body, its mind on other matters. June Paulson contributed another pencil to the pile but refused to part with her lucky penny.

Then came Warren Vaughn, who scooped the pennies but let the other impediments lie. "Money always looked better to me," he explained. "Pull the trick on somebody else," he added, returning the pennies.

As a final touch a reporter wheeled a piece of chalk out of Hank Blastic at the Student Store in the name of charity and redrew the concentric circles around the pennies.

Attracted by this lure, Bill Gwin stopped, picked up one pencil and walked on. "I've been without a pencil all day," he explained. The Kaimin generously contributed Paulson's pencil.

Mrs. Ransstrom Gets Pennies

Last on the list, Mrs. Art Ransstrom, who approached the barricade with Red Warden and Dough Williams. Mrs. Ransstrom collected the pennies, promising to put them in her bank, while Warden made off rapidly in another direction refusing to be quoted.

High among those who saw the papers but refused to stoop was Walter Coombs, who passed the paper in front of the Student Union six times without casting a wayward eye.

INSURANCE FIRMS CONSIDER
STUDENT CLIENTS AS RISKY

U. of Manitoba.—Most Toronto auto insurance firms do not care to insure college students. This hesitancy is merely because the so-called teen-aged drivers have statistically the most dangerous record.

To quote Mr. W. G. Robertson, general manager of the Ontario Motor League, "Most auto insurance firms are wary of insuring college boys because of the risk of getting the campus cut-up on their list."

"It is the girl and flask combination and the general irresponsibility of youth, apparently, that accounts for the high frequency of accidents in the lower age brackets," continued Mr. Robertson, commenting on the fact that many people in Ontario are unable to obtain policies on their cars.

Out of 200 firms in Ontario, only one issues its policies on an occupational rating basis and that is the only one refusing policies to students as such.

Manitoba insurance companies have not, as yet, had to take such drastic measures. But, unless the driving which has been seen around the campus lately improves, that day is not far off.—The Manitobean.
